Great Expectations

CHANGE YOUR MINDSET

Coming into a new year is always met with great expectations. To walk into those expectations, you must recognize if you are doing the same thing and expecting different results it will not happen.

Blaming others for your shortcomings, previous years of failure will keep you in complacency; robbing you of managing your time, developing your talent(s), gaining clarity, and having a new outlook on your life.

Wanting or waiting for others to change and you are staying the same will still result in continual complacency. Father told Joshua if he wanted to see good success, he had to keep the word before him. Joshua 1:8.

To see great expectations, you must also keep your eyes focused on the word of God. So, you did not see the results you were looking for in 2024. Do not bring particles from 2024 into the start of 2025. Empty out the recycling bin of your mind and start fresh with speaking differently. 1 Peter 3:10 tells you, "For, "Whoever would love life and see good days must keep their tongue from evil and their lips from deceitful speech."

How do you go about refreshing your mind? It starts with Romans 12:2 – You must be willing to renew it! A renovated mind brings renewal to all areas of your life.

COME INTO 2025 READY FOR GREAT EXPECTATIONS!!!!

Mission India Completed

Dear JLP Ministries, partners and friends, thank you, thank you, thank you. Mission India was a huge success. We are still receiving praise reports of how Father moved in the lives of the people. I can't begin to express how humbling it was to see expectation in the eyes of so many.

We arrived October 16 to a beautiful hotel and were welcomed with beautiful flower leis placed on our necks by Pastor Rajus, his beautiful wife Joy and their sweet daughter Grace. We were driven around by Pastor Rajus fun brother Minister V.J. He made our travel experiences so enjoyable.

The first night, October 17 – started with the children waiting to greet us when the car arrived. While entering the home of Pastor Rajus and his wife, the children showered us with flower peddles over the church balcony. The service began with beautiful worship. The title of the message was "LOVE", foundational scripture John 3:16.

Each service the atmosphere was filled with expectations. October 18 – We were again greeted by the children. Entering the church, beautiful flower leis were placed on our necks once again. The title of the message was "The Power of the Tongue", foundational scripture Proverbs 18:21.

Sunday, October 20 – The closing service was a powerful prophetic move of the Holy Spirit.

Thank you partners and friends for your support. We left Monday, October 21 overjoyed, thankful that we were instruments Father used to be a blessing both spiritually and naturally; and we are looking forward to returning to India.

Journey To My Purpose

by Jessica Stills

At a young age, it was spoken over my life that I would one day be helping to heal people's minds, but it wouldn't be through the typical medicinal route. My practice would be through scripture. I felt as if those words being spoken over my life just "confirmed" my desires of being a psychiatrist.

I went through undergrad and graduate school with ease, but the one hurdle I couldn't get over was the MCAT, which is the admissions test required to get into medical school. I attempted the test 4 times, and each time I studied for it, I felt defeated during the process; I would have bouts with depression because things just weren't clicking for me. I remember the last time I took the exam in 2019, I prayed and prayed and prayed for God to come through and help me get the score I needed, but it did not happen. When this happened, I was so upset and angry with God because as a true born perfectionist, I couldn't understand why things weren't going according to my plans. I had the mindset of these are my plans, so come on Lord, get with my program. Looking back, that was so foolish of me to think.

Fast forward to 2021, after two long years of being in my feelings, I had to truly repent to God for my actions and seek Him to understand what the plans are He has for my life. It was at that point that I found myself enrolling into another Master's program, but this time for Clinical Mental Health Counseling. Everything was going so smoothly for me in this program, I passed each class with flying colors. I knew that, eventually, I would have to do an internship, so I asked God for a paid internship so that I wouldn't have to worry about work. Well, when the time came for the internship, I was hit with rejection after rejection. It was so hard to relinquish control because why aren't things going according to plan? I remember being on "Prayer and Prophetic" asking for prayers that I could find an internship placement and have my application approved in time.

After placing the situation at God's feet, He came through with an internship in November 2022. I had a strong dislike for my internship site. It was far, it wasn't with the population I wanted to work with, it wasn't paid, and I was dealing with Imposter Syndrome.

Feature Story

Journey To My Purpose by Jessica Stills

The beginning of 2023, I decided to do the Daniel's fast, as I wanted to truly seek God and get closer to Him. During my prayer time, I was constantly reminded to trust Him. To graduate from this program in August 2024, I needed 600 internship hours. By the middle of May, I only had a little over 100 hours. I begin to panic, because I didn't want to graduate late. I begin searching for another internship site and eventually found a site, interviewed with the company and was immediately sent an offer. I had to submit paper work to my school for approval, but was told that I can't just switch internship sites because it's after the deadline. So, I had to work at BOTH sites, all while trying to manage a fulltime job. I prayed to God about what do because I can't manage all this and He guided me to take a leave of absence from my job. From June to August, I focused only on my internship while only receiving 60% of my pay, but my husband and I never missed a beat financially. I just had to trust God. I was able to finish my program in August and I returned to work at the end of that month.

I had a goal to quit my job by the end of the year and start working as a therapist in January. I remember just browsing on LinkedIn and Indeed for jobs and there were so many available. I was like ok, once I get licensed, I will apply for those jobs. I became licensed in November, and it was time to apply for jobs. All those jobs, I had saw previously were gone, except for two. I applied for those two and got hit immediately with rejections. I cried, but I was like ok God, this isn't where you want me. I applied to another job on a whim, just because God said to apply for jobs and got a call back a week later for an interview. During the interview, I learned how this company offers a faith-based group option in which scriptures are incorporated into the therapeutic process. I fell in love with the company and what they stood for. I was offered the job, and I start in January.

The word that was spoken over my life is coming to pass, I had to get myself out of the way, relinquish control, simply say yes to God and be obedient. I'm so grateful and looking forward to what God has in store for me during this next season in my life.
